

HOW THE DEMOCRATS' BILL TO BE MINOR... They Will Let Vital Interests Suffer to Make a Record.

IT WILL FALL HEAVILY ON THE WEST... Nebraska Particularly Will Feel the Effects of the False Policy—Sweeping Reductions Made in All Appropriations Regardless of Legitimate Demands.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—The house appropriations committee members are determined that in their remaining appropriation bills they will live up to their policy and not "water" Mr. Dockery, who is chairman of the subcommittee for the District of Columbia, will report his bill to the full committee on Monday morning and expects to have it in the house by Monday afternoon.

Judge Sayres, who is in charge of the sundry civil bill, expects to have that bill in the house by the end of the week. He has made the most sweeping reductions in it that are made in any appropriation bill and claims that he will "water" it. There is no particular cut at any point, according to his statements, but every item has been reduced from last year's appropriations. There are practically no new appropriations in the bill, and the house has before it now a resolution providing that there shall be no appropriations made whatever for public buildings.

Both Mr. Dockery and Judge Sayres claim that they will get their bills through the house practically as they will come from the committee. It is expected that the conference permit the senate to make any substantial increase. The enterprise in and developments of the bill are not a serious setback by the appropriation bills prepared by this house. The postoffice and Indian and public land branches of the government will be reduced to the lowest possible ebb. The house today for instance voted to place all the Indian agencies in the hands of army officers.

To Pay for Nebraska's Indian Service. Dr. Leonard B. Smith has been recommended for appointment as Indian agent at Fremont in place of Dr. Crabb, resigned. Senator Manderson introduced a bill to reimburse the state of Nebraska for the expenditures of the Sioux Indian outbreak, eighteen months or a year ago, in defending her northern border. He has a bill on file for the purpose to furnish him statistics and general facts to back up his efforts. The senate committee on public buildings and grounds has reported favorably on a bill providing for a public building at Grand Island, to cost, with the site, $60,000. There is no doubt the bill will pass the senate. The burden of final success now rests upon Representative McKeligh, who is expected to get it through the house.

Miscellaneous. In the case of Joseph C. Herrick from Mitchell, S. D., homestead entry final proof, Assistant Secretary Chandler today reversed the decision of the commissioner of the general land office, which had rejected a patent issue on the entry in question. In the case of Mary Stanton against William Constantine, from Cheyenne, Wyo., Assistant Secretary Chandler today reversed the commissioner's decision and ordered a hearing to be held before the local officers, at which one of the special agents shall present a representative of the government. When the testimony shall have been taken the local officials will readjudicate the matter in issue and allow the case to take its course.

The condition of Mrs. Brown, mother of Mrs. Manderson, is a little improved tonight, although she is yet in a dangerous condition. The vacancy in the senate office of the means which will be made by the retirement of Mr. McKenna of California, who has been appointed to the bench, will probably be filled by the election of a new member. The principal candidates for the place are Henderson and Hopkins of Illinois and Dolliver of Iowa. Each of these candidates is expected to fight themselves, but the friends of each are urging him upon the speaker. The general opinion is that Mr. Henderson will be chosen on account of his record in congress, although Dolliver's friends are making a determined effort for the loan.

Representative Flick's announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election has brought out a large number of the citizens of the Eighth Iowa district, who will contest the election. The contest will be the privilege of the republican nomination. The latest gentleman to come out and quickly fell around is W. H. Hall of Osceola, who is understood to have been in the city before the convention unless he is convinced in advance that there will be no chance for his success.

The house committee on public lands will hear Representative Dolliver in behalf of his bill to indemnify the settlers of the Des Moines River country. Mr. Dolliver is expected to be a member of the subcommittee having this bill in charge, and says he is heartily in favor of it. He will contest the election of the republican nomination. The latest gentleman to come out and quickly fell around is W. H. Hall of Osceola, who is understood to have been in the city before the convention unless he is convinced in advance that there will be no chance for his success.

Senator Allison has gone to Rhode Island with Senator Aldrich to remain over Sunday. Representative Perry has introduced a bill providing for the payment of one-half of the expense of paving streets around the United States court house and postoffice at Omaha, Ia.

ARMY OFFICERS AS AGENTS. One of the Clauses of the Indian Appropriation Bill as it Passed the House. NEW CLASS OF AGENTS FOR THE RED MAN.

Mr. Dingley, in a Resolution, Charges the Democratic Congress with Avoiding Real Issues—Silver Matters—General Washington News. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—The house today, in consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, authorized an innovation which, if carried into effect, will result in the great interest of Indian agents and officers of the regular army. After two hours debate an amendment, proposed by Mr. Bowers of California, was adopted, providing that the president may appoint officers of the army to act as Indian agents when vacancies occur.

Mr. Holman, in a motion, proposed that such amendments be adopted providing that future agents, while acting as Indian agents, shall be under the orders and direction of the secretary of the interior. How army officers will receive this innovation is a matter of great speculation among congressmen today, as officers of the regular army have always been very jealous of their independent position and may resent being transferred from the war department and placed under the orders of the civilians of the interior department. There are many reasons, however, who maintain that the change will be for the benefit of the Indians and that under the proposed regime the Indians will be much more fairly treated. It is not to state in this connection that western army officers have already complained that the troubles with Indians for years past have been attributable to the fact that the Indian problem would never be solved until the wards of the army men and the war department.

Mr. Bryan Presided. The committee of the whole was presided over by Mr. Bryan, an Indian and the amendment of Mr. Bowers was the first one today proposed for the bill. On a standing vote the committee agreed to Mr. Bowers' amendment. Mr. Bowers' amendment was adopted by a vote of 121 yeas and 43 nays. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 121 yeas and 43 nays.

AFRAID TO FACE THE ISSUES. Mr. Dingley of Maine Presents a Readable Resolution in the House. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—Dingley of Maine presented for reference a preamble and resolution relating to the democratic party and its determination to resist raising the direct issue on the principles which separate the republican and democratic parties in the approaching presidential election that it is necessary to make the people believe that there are questions at issue between the two parties as to whether the appropriations and expenditures of the government are economical. The resolution then goes on to say that these so-called leaders of the democratic party, in pursuance of this plan and in support of their unfounded claims of superior honesty and integrity, found it necessary to defer all appropriations until the second session of the present congress, or until after the presidential election, in order that they might be able to point during the campaign to the apparent reduction of appropriations in support of their charges of economical administration. The plan of campaign it is inexpedient to provide for the construction of the numerous public buildings which congress intended to authorize until the presidential election, after the presidential election shall have been decided and the necessity, which, as the democratic members seem to think, exists for pressing a false issue of economy in lieu of the real issues of principles which shall divide the parties shall have passed away.

They Passed One Bill. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—After the passage of one bill the house went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill. Little Johnson, Accessory to the Murder of Freda Ward, at Liberty. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 27.—Judge Daboso this morning set the public mind at rest for a moment by ordering the arrest of Little Johnson, who is charged with being an accessory to the murder of Miss Freda Ward by Alice Mitchell; in this city on January 25 last. The required bond, $10,000, was promptly forthcoming, and Miss Johnson will spend Sunday at her quiet home on "Lance street, instead of in the gloomy jail of the city.

It was known yesterday that the decision would be given this morning, and long before the court opened the doors of court every seat and available bit of standing room in the criminal court had been taken. It was a curious thing that this patiently awaited today the verdict which the jury had rendered in this preliminary trial. A mixture of people of all classes and situations in life were present, and a few ladies were present, and the court was crowded to the doors. The judge, in his usual dignified and cheerful way to the scene. By the side of the secretary sat the stalwart matrons of society, and crowded uncomfortably near them the colored damsels, arrayed for the occasion. A little before 9 o'clock a rear door of the court room opened and Miss Johnson entered, leaning upon the arm of her brother, following her came her twin brother "Jim" and an older brother. They took their accustomed places in the courtroom, and the proceedings began. The judge, in his usual dignified and cheerful way to the scene. By the side of the secretary sat the stalwart matrons of society, and crowded uncomfortably near them the colored damsels, arrayed for the occasion.

INDIAN BOARDING SCHOOL BURNED. Complete Destruction of the Winnebago Agency Building and Its Contents. LYONS, Neb., Feb. 27.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—News has just reached here that the Indian boarding school at the Winnebago agency was burned yesterday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock. The building was built in 1874 at a cost of $15,000. There was nothing saved. All the clothing, warehouse and other contents were destroyed. The cause of the fire is not known. The building was heavily insured. The fire threw a large quantity of burning material into the street, and a heavy run at the factory next winter.

Tried of Political Action. BEATRICE, Neb., Feb. 27.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The Gage county farmers alliance met in this city today with a very fair attendance. The discussions during the meeting indicated a strong tendency to abandon the political features of the organization, and to devote the energies of the alliance to the improvement of the farmer's condition rather than to the influence of the association to the political aspirations of the professional office seekers. A few calamity howlers whose principal farming duties are to hang around town and discuss politics were censured and sent down upon and relegated to the rear.

FELL ON FERTILE SOIL. Robert Falley, a well known farmer near Omaha, was killed in a corn sheller this morning and so badly mangled as to necessitate its partial amputation. Caught in a Corn Sheller. Little Blue Gleason of Lincoln the Victim of a Habit Animal. LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 27.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Elsie Gleason, a little girl of 10, living on East P street, was bitten on the hand this afternoon by a dog presumably mad. The little girl was playing with some companions in the neighborhood of P street and the dog came rushing at her. She passed her mad a snapping at her hand. Officers gave chase, and pursued the dog for several miles, but were unable to catch the animal; but it was shot at Fortieth and Washington streets by Rev. Mr. Hull. Five dogs belonging to various parties in the southeastern portion of the city were bitten and were immediately taken to the city under treatment by a physician.

AMUSEMENTS. NEW THEATER. A WEEK OF FUN. CORNER SEVENTEENTH & HARVEY STS. RENEWED. A WEEK BEGINNING FEB. 28. WEEKS WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.

Without going into details, it is only necessary to say it is becoming evident that the southern element was strongly opposed to independent action, and that the leaders in the anti-third party movement were Dr. McKenna of Texas and Livingston of Georgia. Those in favor of such action saw that something had to be done and quickly. At Indianapolis the southern element was very active. The promoters of third party action began to formulate plans. It was nothing more or less than that Weaver and Donnelly drew the fire of the enemy, thus giving Washburn and Taubeneck an opportunity to bring out their own platform. How well the plan succeeded will be shown by this story.

At meeting after meeting the third party idea has been discussed. In the upper corner of the alliance the issue was drawn on a piece of paper to support the action of the federated bodies. The southern leaders fought it, but were defeated. The anti-third party movement that all alliance congressmen should stay out of all old party caucuses was carried, despite the efforts of Livingston et al.
